Dr. Jenna Mancini Rufo

Reimagining Special Education

Dr. Rufo is a dynamic leader who is passionate about inclusive education. She founded her consulting firm, Empower ED, with a vision of creating educational systems that meaningfully include ALL students and respect the unique gifts and talents each individual brings.

Dr. Rufo will be kicking off our conference with a keynote presentation titled, Reimagining Special Education.

This session encourages educators to reimagine challenges in special education and the system at large by using inclusion as a framework to build equity. We answer the question, “What would it look like to reimagine school in a way that erases practices that continue to keep some students struggling while others thrive?”
